Mariel is an old-style serif typeface created in Typography 3 by Ethan Watson for Typography 3 with John Kane. This face takes inspiration from Jenson, Garamond, and Baskerville for characteristics and metrics. We met once a week and critiqued as a class. We used Karen Cheng's Book as a refernce. The characters were first hand drawn and then edited in Adobe Illustrator, hoping to preserve the imperfect subtelties of early typefaces when printing was first invented.`
